Harry Vander Zee, chief editor of Homeopathic links is well known to all, over the world. Harry Vander Zee, born in the Netherlands in 1953, specialised at the SHO (Foundation for Homeopathic Education for Doctors) in the Netherlands. He has been practicing homeopathy in Haren since 1987. For many years he has been teaching homeopathy around the world, the emphasis of his teaching being on recognizing themes and patterns in a patient's history, as well as on a deeper understanding of the themes and patterns in remedies. He had published several articles and books on homeopathy and has been teaching homeopathy for many years around the globe.

He has specialised in analysing the birth history of children, and had published the book Miasms in labour & Homeopathy and Birth Trauma on the subject. Since 2004 he is actively involved with Peter Chappell and his projects for treating AIDS and other epidemics, for which in 2007 he co-founded the Amma Resonance Healing Foundation. He formed a team of researchers and designed a research protocol to further study the efficacy of PC-1 for HIV/AIDS and travelled to the Central African Republic where the minister of health adopted the protocol. After building up in his own clinic with enough experience with PC-resonances in both epidemic and chronic diseases, he prepared a seminar that he conducted in several countries to raise the awareness of the possibilities of healing by resonance for diseases offer.
